Edison Investor Access hosted its first annual Women in Investment networking event on Monday 21 November 2011 at the Fleming Collection gallery in Mayfair, bringing together an accomplished list of female attendees from a diverse range of industries. These included fund managers, private wealth managers and management of quoted companies, alongside Edison's female equity analysts.

The Edison Investor Access team felt there was a pressing need for such networking events and was keen to foster relationships as well as discussion around the different issues that women in the City face.

They welcomed two distinguished speakers to address the audience of almost 60 – Rosemary Banyard, Schrodgers' Co-Head of Pan European Small and Mid-Cap Investment, and Pamela Smith, Deutsche Bank's Global Head of Aviation Finance and a member of the Steering Committee of the 30% Club. Amy Sullivan of CARE International UK also spoke about CARE's aid work with women in developing countries.

Following the speeches, attendees were invited for a private tour of the gallery's permanent exhibition with the curator, which included an artist focus on Anne Redpath, one of Scotland's leading female painters of the mid-20th century.

Companies represented included Bloomsbury Publishing, Essar Energy Services (UK) Limited, Cluff Gold, UBS Wealth Management, JM Finn & Co, Brewin Dolphin, Smith & Williamson, Seymour Pierce, MAM Funds, Atlantic Petroleum, Vectura Group, Cheviot Asset Management, Investec Wealth & Investment, Cavendish Asset Management, Taylor Young Investment Management, Accrue Investment Management and Westhouse Securities, to name just a few.
